

Jens Schwenderling

M.Sc. (RWTH)
Patent Engineer

Main focus

Drafting patent applications, participation in patent prosecution proceedings in Germany and abroad and participation in patent infringement proceedings.

Technical focus

Electrical engineering, semiconductor structures, computer and microprocessor technology, mobile communications technology, data transmission, telecommunications, signal processing, network technology and network protocols, application of technical gases, cooling technology

Career steps

since 2015	Employee of KNH Patentanwälte
2010-2015	Studies of physics at RWTH Aachen University, graduation as Master of Science
2015	Visiting researcher at the University of Pittsburgh during the Master's thesis

Languages

German, English